TWO GOOD MEN

Claimed by the Grim Reaper In One Day.

Mr. James C. Moore, of Near Town and Mr. Wm. T. Bronaugh, of Pembroke.

Mr. James C. Moore, one of the best citizens of Christian County, died of pneumonia Wednesday afternoon in the 56th year of his age. Mr. Moore was born in this country in 1847, and was a son of James W. Moore, one of the most prominent members of the Masonic order who ever lived in this county. He grew to manhood on his father's farm and received a liberal education. He became a successful planter and in 1877 was married to Miss Bettie Campbell, second daughter of B. S. and Maria Campbell. His wife and five children survive him. The children are Jas. C. Moore, Jr., a civil engineer with the L. & N. railroad, at Evansville; Miss Mary Moore, Ben and Gus, of this city, and Milton, the youngest, still in school.

Mr. Moore's death was shockingly sudden. He was sick only a few days. He was a man of commanding presence and fine physique. More than six feet in height and of athletic build, he was the very picture of health and strength. He was a member of an elder in the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, and his life was that of a consistent Christian and a most useful man and citizen.

The funeral services were held at one o'clock yesterday afternoon and the burial took place in Hopewell Cemetery later in the afternoon.

W. T. BRONAUGH,

One of Pembroke's Best Men Passes Away.

Mr. William T. Bronaugh, of Pembroke, died Wednesday afternoon of heart disease. He had been in failing health for some time. He was about 60 years old and was born in Louisa county, Virginia. He came to this county when a young man and had lived here nearly forty years. He was twice married. Two or three children by his first marriage live in the vicinity of Pembroke. Mr. Charlie Bronaugh is his son and he leaves one daughter, Miss Lillie Bronaugh. His second wife survives him.

Mr. Bronaugh was a prominent and highly esteemed citizen, and a member of the Baptist church at Pembroke.

He owned a fine farm in the suburbs of Pembroke, and lived in a handsome residence in the town of Pembroke. He also engaged largely in the tobacco business until his health began to fail a few years ago. The interment took place at Pembroke yesterday.

SEEKS LEGAL SEPARATION

More Divorce Suits Filed For Spring Term.

Mr. A. Ruffin has sued for divorce from James H. Ruffin. The plaintiff, in her petition, states that they were married in January, 1899, and lived together until the following September, at which time the defendant left and abandoned her and their infant. She further states that she knew not of his intentions until she received a letter from him, written in Louisville, stating that he would not return. He is now in Illinois. In addition to a divorce, plaintiff asks the court to grant her $50 per month alimony.

Charles Woodbridge sues for a legal separation from Sylvia Woodbridge. The petition states that they were married Sept. 5, 1899, and lived together as man and wife only five days, when the defendant of her own accord, abandoned plaintiff.

HOLLAND'S OPERA HOUSE

Damaged by Fire Yesterday Afternoon.

A fire in the interior of Holland's Opera House yesterday afternoon at 3:30 destroyed the piano and a portion of the front of the stage, before the fire was controlled by the department.

The Stag Saloon underneath sustained some damage from water.

Mr. Holland estimates his loss at $300, which is uninsured, except the piano.

The fire, it is supposed originated from a cigarette stump, probably thrown behind the piano.

The show to-night will not be interfered with.

LOOSE SALES

Every Day This Week and Prices Are Good.

Loose sales of the weed on the floor have been conducted every day this week by Woodbridge & Co., and a large quantity of tobacco has been disposed of at good prices. The kinds sold were common lugs and common leaf and prices ranged from $3.50 to $7.50.

The inspectors' report shows receipts for the week of 340 hogsheads, and for the year, 1540 hds. Sales for the year, 160 hds.

He is a successful business man and if he takes his usual hustling qualities into politics he will be a hard man to beat in the race.

At Blackford he states he was transferred to another train and had to complete his journey in the compartment of a coach claimed to be reserved for colored passengers, in which there was no fire. White Hollands vs. Bronze.

By Mrs. S. T. TREVWINGTON, Rochester, N. Y.

Certain questions are asked me so often that perhaps there may be some who will welcome the answers as helping to solve some of their own perplexities.

Perhaps the most frequent one is this: "Why do you consider White Holland Turkeyssuperior to the Bronze?"

It is, of course, largely a matter of taste. Personally, a flock of snowy turkeys on a green lawn is a beautiful sight. Still, there are some cogent arguments in favor of the White variety.

As is universally understood, the birds are more domestic, not given to roaming so far afield.
Their habit of coming home to roost is an advantage that counts for much. In my experience, I never had a White Holland turkey that did not come to the familiar place to roost, except when sitting.

I find them easy to train in regard to their night quarters.
Chicken thieves being abroad in our section of country, I determined that none of my white beauties should tempt the midnight prowlers by roosting on the fence within easy reach. We are the fortunate possessors of a giant willow tree in our backyard, with high, wide-spreading branches—an ideal turkey roost.

The few birds that did not choose this spot of vantage I drove from the fences toward the tree as night came on, and the wise fowls seemed to understand just what I wanted with very little teaching. The old tree blossoms white every evening, even though the time of appeal blooms is past.

Nor do the white turkeys go far from home to find their nests.

With a little care in providing barrels in sheltered nooks, the greater part will lay exactly where you desire. Of course there are some independent hens who must seek a place of their own choosing, but even these do not go weary distances from the place they know as home.

Just as in the case of chickens, a white turkey is more attractive dressed than a dark one. The operation is also an easier one.
Dry-picked, then plumped by dipping into boiling water, then into cold, you have a result that will tempt an epicure, or what is more to our purpose, the buyer of fancy dressed stock. In some markets this will mean added dollars in our pocket-book.

Of course the White Holland turkey does not weigh as much as the Bronze. This is worth considering. But the demand for the extra heavy-weight turkeys is not what it used to be.
Many house-holders prefer to cook two smaller birds than to attempt to get just the best result with a mammoth specimen.
Then, too, the weights of the White variety are increasing.

The birds exhibited at our shows must have size and weight to win premiums.

There is a decided contrast between the best White Hollands of to-day and those of years ago. I remember the first white turkeys I ever saw. They were like pantaloons compared with the previous birds to-day.

"Why are you so opposed to letting chicken mothers raise the poults?" This question is often asked. My opinion is based on experience. In the early days of my work with white turkeys I utilized chicken hens as mothers, because I needed all my turkey hens for egg production. Those turkeys could not be persuaded to leave the yards surrounding the house. They could not be taught to go into more distant fields to hunt for grasshoppers, or to get out of sight or sound of the family. The hens would not stay with them as long as was desirable, but would wean them at an age that made personal care on my part necessary for the best results. Those turkeys were such a nuisance that the next year I took care to have turkey hens enough for both mothers and egg producers. This plan worked admirably and it was a pretty sight in the early mornings of late summer to see the processions start for the fields. They picked up their own living, helped materially to lessen the grasshopper evil, and came home at night, full and happy, to seek their accustomed places for rest. Only through stress circumstances could I be induced to entrust pouls to the care of a domestic hen.

"What shelter do you provide for the pouls before they are old enough to be exposed to weather of all kinds?"

"We have found rail pens with board coverings very convenient and effective. By a little care the old turkeys soon learn that they are expected to bring their little charges to this pen at night, and an supper always awaits them on their return, they are very willing to come. We shut them in this pen until the dew is dried from the grass, and in case of stormy days they are kept within its shelter. Cleanliness must be carefully looked after, and with this understood, I can heartily recommend the plan to turkey raisers. High ground should be chosen so that rains will not form pools within the enclosure. In case of heavy and long continued rain, as during the past season, dry straw will give comfort and safety from dampness.

Let us not be turkey cranks;
rather turkey enthusiasts.
Without enthusiasm, success is scarcely to be hoped for, whether we raise the lordly Bronze or the beautiful and stately White Holland—in Reliable Poultry Journal.

SALISBURY'S POOR MEMORY.

Late Prime Minister Lived in a World
Apart from Others.

Whatever may be the cause, says the Review of Reviews, there is no mistaking the fact that Mr. Balfour's succession to the premiership has occurred less stir than many political incidents of much less importance.
Mr. Gladstone lived ever in the public eye. Week days and Sundays he was always doing and saying something which afforded material for newspaper comment. The public took the keenest interest in his books, in his porcelyn, in his cutting down trees in the parish church. He was a performer always in the glare of the footlights, whether in office or out of it. Lord Salisbury lived in comparative seclusion. If he did not direct the affairs of a world-wide empire from a hermitage, he governed it from Hatfield, and often, for weeks he would never leave his retreat, even for the purpose of meeting the diplomatic representatives of other powers at the foreign office.

The Cecils are a world unto themselves and if Lord Salisbury may not be exactly safe to be one of those world forgetting mortals by the world forgot, he lived and lives apart. Of late years his memory has failed him, not for facts so much as for faces, and all manner of old stories are current as to the mistakes which he made owing to his inability to distinguish between individuals.

On one occasion a worthy wine merchant, who was invited to spend a week end in a family party at Hatfield, is said to have been mistaken by the late prime minister for Lord Roberts. The delusion was so complete that, after opening the conversation at the dinner table, he carried his astonished guest off into the library and insisted upon learning from his un instructed lips exactly what he thought of the campaign in Africa. "Tell me," so the story goes,
"tell me," he said to the flattered but bewildered wine merchant, "what you really think of the war in South Africa. Will Lord Kitchener make as great a mess of it as all our other generals?"

The good man rose to the situation, and was rewarded by being anxiously asked by the prime minister what he would do if he were in South Africa at that moment. It was not until the following day that the guest was aware of the reason for the strange soliloquy which the prime minister had shown for his opinion upon military tactics.

On another occasion he is said to have asked who that remarkably intelligent young man was with whom he had just been transacting business.
"It is one of your private secretaries," was the reply. When a man forgets the fact of a private secretary and confounds wine merchants with commanders-in-chief it is not surprising that he should find the time had come for his departure.

Bad

Health

is The

Enemy

of

Good

Health

It is no more reasonable to expect to get good health from bad blood than it is to expect to get a good crop out of bad soil. Bad blood is and always must be the enemy of good health. The several organs of the body are nourished by blood. If the blood is impure it is say impure blood. If the blood is in red corpuscles popularly known as "poor" blood, the vital organs of the body must be weakened.

In general the impurity of the blood is marked by surface eruptions, such as boils, pimples, ezema, tetter, scrofulous sores, or erysipelas.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disfiguring eruptions, heals scrofulous sores, and cures other results of impure blood, because it cleanses the blood of the impurities which cause disease. It acts directly on the blood-making glands increasing the quantity and improving the quality of the blood.

"I write this note for the benefit of those who may be suffering," says Mr. John T. Muldoon, of Muldoon, Texas.
"I have received a perfect cure. Had chronic sore leg for four years, and went to see two doctors, but they failed to cure me. I was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and use his All-Healing Salve. I did so, and after using the Salve a week, I was well again. I now recommend your medicines to all my friends, and will advise any who are suffering from any chronic disease to write to Dr. Pierce, as will kindly give advice freely as he did to me."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and do not want."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to cover expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers; or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Ad-

Perfect Health Restored.

"Several years ago I met with an accident which caused me to be bedridden for months. For me I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which cured me completely after taking it only a little over three months. I have had perfect health ever since and have no reason to believe that your medicine will surely cure female troubles."

In Excellent Health, Now.

"In the fall of 1897, I was troubled with nervousness, headache, heart trouble, and sleeplessness," writes Miss Blanche M. Bracey, of Salina, Oregon County, N. Y. "Last summer wrote you and you advised me to try your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medicine'. I did so and I began to improve at once. Continued taking the medicine for half a dozen each of 'Pavonia' and 'Golden Discovery' for the space of four or five months, and in less than a year I had regained my former health. You have my heartfelt thanks for your remarkable prescription for me. I am in excellent health now, but am still using your 'Pleasant Pellets'."

"Sick Women Made Well."

How much that sentence means. The difference between the life of a sickly and healthy woman is the difference between the darkened room and the out-door sunshine; the sick-bed and the bicycle; the tennis court and a parlor prison. And to that difference must be added the aching back, headache, nervousness, and general malaise which are associated with womanly diseases. A sick woman is like one who has fallen into a pit in the midst of a beautiful landscape. As she lies there crippled and helpless she can see the blue sky and sunshine overhead, and hear the songs of happy birds, and in an agony of longing to be free, she cries feebly for help to lift her once more to the fair world and human companionship.

That is the one need of the sick woman—HELP. She cannot regain lost health without it, and it should be a comfort to every sick woman to know that the help she needs to lift her up from sickness to health is to be found in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The history of this remarkable medicine is written by the thousands in innumerable grateful letters. These letters reveal experiences of great suffering from disease. But the motive of the letters is not to dwell upon past suffering, but to tell the word of gratitude and praise for perfect health and healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Some of these letters we have the privilege of publishing in spite of the aversion of many women to even fiftieth slight publishing, because as they write, "I want other sick women to know of this wonderful cure of womanly ills, and to find health as I have."

Let it be remembered that every promise made for "Favorite Prescription" goes hand in hand with performance. Do you doubt that it would cure you? Whether your case of condition, it is curable by medicine, like cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription". It establishes regularly, drives away disease, relieves infestation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. Women who are weak and run-down, whether from work or worry, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a perfect tonic and nerve. It restores the appetite, tranquillizes the nerves, and induces refreshing sleep.

Any sick woman who is suffering from disease in aggravated and chronic form is cordially invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for sick women.

The Farmer and Poultry Breeding.

Notwithstanding the splendid opportunity the farm affords for poultry raising advantage is not taken of the resources, and the average flocks of farm poultry are rarely ever self-supporting. Proper business management of the flocks would result in profit. Poultry raising will enable the farmer to bring into profitable use the unworkable hillsides and the rough rock lands, which make ideal ranging grounds for poultry.

The so-called poultry fancier is successful because he gives his flocks personal business attention. He knows the value of a varied diet; he has proved that the ration which will fatten his poultry is not the best for producing eggs. He aims, as does the expert dairyman, to give a balanced ration for some specific purpose. He knows that poultry profit mainly comes from winter eggs. In order to get winter eggs he knows there must be, first, a healthy flock, free from vermin; comfortable chicken houses, kept scrupulously clean. Experience has proved that the best of foods are always the cheapest. Green food of some kind in winter is essential. The hens should earn a good portion of their daily allowance by scratching for it. Poultrymen now admit the scratching shed is one of the most important factors in winter egg production. It gives the hens needed exercise, which keeps them warm and in good health. The idea of keeping up the stamina of a flock of poultry by introducing new blood, unless the new blood comes from a flock bred and raised rightly, and proper selection of the home flock is followed, is a myth.

The profitable qualities of all breeds of poultry is the result of careful, intelligent selection. Size, early maturity, early and continuous egg laying, all may be greatly improved in a flock by proper selection and without the use of any new blood. The so-called poultrymen who make poultry raising a very profitable business, with few exception, are not so favorably situated for poultry raising as most farmers are. They simply take advantage of all opportunities in a business way and look carefully after all the details. There are a number of factors governing profitable poultry raising. Some of them are very little things, but they are like the cogs in a wheel—each little cog performs a service of importance; knock out one and all are thrown out of gear. So it is with poultry; the little essentials to success must be observed, both single and as a whole. One of the main reasons why women are generally more successful with poultry than men is because they more carefully look after all the little details and are invariably more particular about the comfort and cleanliness of the flocks.

The proper way for a farmer to commence poultry raising on the farm in a business way is to start with a flock of from 25 to 50. Every hen should be as near alike in shape as possible. At the head of the flock should be a Plymouth Rock or a Wyandotte male. The second season the selection should be made still more carefully—both uniformity in size and plumage being carefully observed. The idea should always be to breed to a certain type. Nothing but pure breed males should head the flock. This plan is the only one to build up from a common flock. Of course a much better way is to start at once with a pure breed.

The superiority of the pure breeds does not seem to be fully understood by many farmers. If a farmer will visit a commission house in any large city that makes a specialty of poultry selling he will learn these facts. The commission man will tell him the pure breeds always sell for more because they are alike in appearance and shape. He can tell a lot of common chickens as soon as he opens a package of dressed poultry. Why? Because some have short backs, some long, some are full-breasted and some are not; long and short legged specimens; even though all may be in comparatively good condition this variation will exist. There can be no fixed type with mongrels. Therefore the commission man classes such packages as "mixed lots" or "seconds" and they sell accordingly.

Appearance in any product is most excellent invitation for the best class of customers, who are willing to pay the price for a choice article. Pure breeds cost less to keep and invariably give better returns for their keeping.

An apple orchard makes a very excellent poultry run. The shade afforded is not too dense. The hens and chicks will keep down many insects that are injurious to the trees. The hen house should always be situated on an elevation, or so arranged to insure perfect freedom from dampness if situated elsewhere. The sashed part of the house should face the south, which will give plenty of sunshine in the windows in winter time and little at other seasons.

A few things to remember in poultry-raising are these: When the ground is frozen or covered with snow grit must be supplied. Crushed oyster shells are excellent. Grease the inside of the water vessels so the ice won't stick to them; empty the water vessels every night. Cleanliness is necessary at all seasons. That dampness and roosting in drafts is the cause of many poultry ailments. That in cold weather the eggs should be gathered several times a day. That hens are more reliable sitter than pullets. That keeping the flock tame adds to their value in many ways. That eggs from unduly fat hens rarely hatch. That an overfat male should not be at the head of the flock. That sick fowls should be penned by themselves and not be allowed to run around with the flock. That continuous feeding of one thing is apt to produce serious cases of indigestion and bowel trouble.

Which is the best breed? is a question often asked. It might properly be answered by saying it depends upon the man as much as the breed. Every poultryman who is making a specialty of one breed thinks his breed is the best. And it is just as long as he thinks so. The best breed, then, depends on the man behind the hens. There is more difference in men than there is in breeds of poultry. Any breed that does not do well is handicapped by conditions, surroundings and lack of favorable opportunity. Of course these are breeds that are justly considered as more generally in favor than others. The Barred Plymouth Rocks and the White Wyandottes are to-day more extensively bred than any other breeds. Why? Because they are considered more of a general purpose breed? Their chicks at a certain age make the best broilers, can be put in marketable condition early and at less cost than other breeds. The hens make good mothers. Chicks are strong and rapid growers. They are considered good winter layers. All these qualities are desirable.

It should be understood there is a great difference in strains of fowls regarding utility qualities. For instance, we know of a strain of Barred Rocks which the owner has been for years developing, making careful selection for improvement in size, early and continuous egg-laying and eggs of good size. These desirable points have been wonderfully improved and at the same time the standard plumage markings have been so well kept and improved that birds from this breeder's yards have often been winners.

There is no reason why beauty and utility should not be well-matched team on the road to success in poultry raising.

The points considered in judging poultry are not, as many people seem to consider, simply fancy points. Each breed has its distinctive characteristics, and these so-called points which the judge considers are really the requirements the respective breeds should possess to denote that they are pure bred. These points, of course, vary in their degrees of excellence and in considering them the judge ascertains which specimen is nearest to the ideal bird the standard describes.—Commercial Poultry.

It is in many respects equal to the services of a dozen physicians. I have used it as a tonic after severe illness and as a stimulant to the stomach and digestive organs. Ashes Scattered Over Sea.

In accordance with a promise made her husband before his death, a New Jersey woman scattered his ashes over the sea.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Ferguson Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son suggested that she use Dr. Chamberlain's Pain Balsam, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. She was much pleased with the relief it gave her mother that she has since recommended it to many others. I know of no medicine that is so good for it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to any persons, needing a medicine for throat or lung troubles." An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since immortal.

It causes bunched in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into constipation.

A bunch appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was laned, and became a running sore. I went into Flood's Saraparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was relieved, and I have since been free from the said sore.

Hood's Saraparilla

and Pill's

will rid you of it, easily and permanently, as they have rid thousands, and has merely decided to withhold factious opposition while waiting for a decision in April. If the primary is legal, the preparations will have been made for holding it.

If it is unlawful, further action will of course have to be taken by the committee.

An Early Estimate.

The Democratic vote in this judicial district by counties in 1900 was as follows:

Calloway..... 2,874

Christian..... 3,264

Lyon..... 1,005

Trigg..... 600

Total..... 8,676

If the candidates for circuit judge poll 75 per cent. of the votes, the total will be 6,507 and the successful candidate would have to get in round numbers about 3,000.

It is a little early for figures, but Bush's friends expect with confidence that he will poll the following votes by counties:

Calloway..... 800

Christian..... 2,000

Lyon..... 600

Trigg..... 600

Total..... 4,000

On a fuller vote his strength would probably be about 4,500 and probably more.

The Primary.

The Democratic State Executive Committee finally came out for a primary under the Carroll law, turned down the scheme to put the machinery in the cities in the hands of a "special commission," delegated conduct of the primary to the local committees in each and every county, limited the cost to $16,000, each candidate to pay pro rata according to the value of the office, putting any additional expense upon the successful candidates, deferred the adoption of a new platform and selection of new committees until 1904, and provided for the special registration of unregistered

Democrats in the cities. While there is no authority for the latter provision under the Carroll law, we assume no objection will be raised to it, and now that there is no prospect of a legal test of the action of the committee by any candidate or other person having a property interest in the committee, we will follow the course of the primary.

HUNTING CLUB.

Minutes of the Annual Hunt
Last November.

Written For the Kentuckian By a Member of the Club.

The Christian County Hunting Club left Pembroke, Ky., Nov. 5, '02, 15 p. m. via the L. & N. railroad with the following gentlemen in the party: Capt. S. R. White, Capt. P. Pendleton, J. R. Caudle, P. M. Parker, W. A. Radford, C. C. Reynolds, T. M. Dalton, R. L. Butler, Frank Kelly, W. R. Dudley and Ralph Metcalf, of Greenfield, Illinois. We were joined at Clarksville by Jas. B. Leigh, Isaac Leigh and Thomas Cooper. A jolly party of true sportsmen, who with six wagons, 29 dogs, horses, mules, wagons, camp equipage and provisions alone might remind you of a supply team for Forest's cavalry rather than the aforesaid Hunting club, for their annual deer hunt in Arkansas.

The journey passed without special interest, other than some very rough jolts on the freight train, till we reached Memphis and although Dick Butler thought fifteen minutes was long enough in Memphis we were compelled to stay there until 10 o'clock Friday morning before the Kate Adams could depart with us bound for Laconia, Ark. Our good friend, Mr. T. T. Thompson, of Laconia, met us in Memphis and accompanied us on our journey. We disbanded about 6 o'clock Saturday morning Nov. 8th and immediately proceeded to our camp site on Scrub Grass Bayou, where we pitched our tents about noon. The afternoon was spent in arranging about camp, while a few went prospecting for fish and game.

Mr. J. K. Birth, of Birth's Landing, came into camp this evening and made a pleasant call. We are always glad to greet such true gentlemen and were sorry he had to return this evening.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH.

After a good night's rest we arose feeling much refreshed and with eager appetites for breakfast, consisting of squirrel, fish and the good things prepared by the loving ones at home. The day passed quietly and while White and Barker explored the country across Cypress and Scrub grass Bayous, Cooper and others went in the opposite direction. Caudle and Pendleton remained at camp and arranged things in good shape. It being Sunday no drives were made. Mr. Bray came into camp this evening and took some of the boys out hunting by lamp light but soon returned without results. All retired early to secure a good night's rest and be ready for the morrow.

MONDAY, NOV. 10TH.

Up early this morning and in the woods before sun up, White and Pendleton made a drive along the Club House Road and dogs soon had up several deer. A nice 4 point buck came out near Caudle's stand and Caudle persuaded him to stay with one shot. The call was then sounded and while Metcalf was sitting on his horse near his stand waiting for the others to come up, a pretty fat, 3 point buck came jumping toward him, but a shot from Metcalf's pump gun brought him to a stand still, though he fired two more shots to make sure he would stay with him. Two more drives were then made further on, but without results, and all returned to camp fully satisfied and contented with the day's work.

During our absence on the drive a fine big buck came to camp, said boo to Luke, wiggled his tail and passed on, though fired at twice by White and Wash who had returned to camp. Two other deer passed near camp during the day. A splendid supper and jolly good time around the camp fire ended the day's sport.

TUESDAY, NOV. 11TH.

Weather still remains clear and very warm. Capt. Pendleton not feeling well, remained in camp. White and Caudle made the drive on Cypress Bayou again this morning, the standers being placed well up the line. Dogs soon had up a fine buck which they carried to Kelly who fired both barrels at close range to keep from being run over, thence to Dalton who fired two shots at long range, but on the run into Big Horse Shoe.

The dogs were then called off and others taken from camp and a drive made below camp with the standers in the Club House Road. Dogs jumped a nice five point buck, carried him to Isaac Leigh who fired one shot at long range, thence to Parker who fired two shots without effect. On he went to Radford who felled him dead on the spot, firing two shots. This was a magnificent buck and very fat. Another drive was then made below the road and Cooper secured a shot at a nice doe from horseback but she ran contrary and got away. Returned to camp and after a fine supper of venison stew and steak, and reading our mail which had been sent from the station, we had a most pleasant time around the camp fire with hearty laughs and good cheer. Court was then called and the Judge arraigned Messrs. Ike Leigh, Tom Cooper, Pete Barker, Monroe Dalton and Frank Kelly for misdeemeanor in missing shots. The prosecuting attorney was charged to fix and execute judgment, which he did by "detailing" each from ranks.

WEDNESDAY NOV. 12.

Up bright and early and in the woods before sun up, White and Pendleton in the drive, with standers placed well up the line on Cypress Bayou. While Barker was walking up the bayou on the far end of the line, he suddenly came upon two does and four fawns 40 yards distant and fired two shots, but they only gave him a pleasant smile and darted off in the bushes. The dogs jumped 2 or 3 others but no one secured a shot. A drive was then made on the other side of the willow flat, but the game ran contrary. Barker and Cooper with Wash and Miner then made a drive in the Big Horse Shoe and the dogs soon had up a deer which ran contrary. All then returned to camp with more expression than game, but oh! what a feast awaited us, with venison steak and stew, hot biscuit and coffee, hominy and apple pie. The weather is warm and threatening to-night and our tent ropes and fly are tightened in anticipation of falling weather.

Dalton leveled his gun to shoot a wild cat, this evening but it proved to be Kelly yawning out near his stand.

THURSDAY NOV. 13TH.

The sky cleared during the night and all signs of rain have disappeared, still very warm. White and Pendleton made a drive along the Club House Road and dogs soon had up several deer. A nice 4 point buck came out near Caudle's stand and Caudle persuaded him to stay with one shot. The call was then sounded and while Metcalf was sitting on his horse near his stand waiting for the others to come up, a pretty fat, 3 point buck came jumping toward him, but a shot from Metcalf's pump gun brought him to a stand still, though he fired two more shots to make sure he would stay with him. Two more drives were then made further on, but without results, and all returned to camp fully satisfied and contented with the day's work.

During our absence on the drive a fine big buck came to camp, said boo to Luke, wiggled his tail and passed on, though fired at twice by White and Wash who had returned to camp. Two other deer passed near camp during the day. A splendid supper and jolly good time around the camp fire ended the day's sport.

FRIDAY NOV. 14TH.

Clouded up during the night and began to rain early this morning and continued to drizzle most of the day. Capt. Pendleton made a short drive below camp with a few standers placed along the camp, but without success. Cooper went prospecting down near the club house but only secured a shot at a large buck at long range. Hunters remained in camp most of the day, it being too wet and disagreeable to do otherwise.

Radford left us to-day, being called away to Florida on urgent business.

We are all, indeed, very sorry to have him go, as he is a jolly good fellow whom we shall miss greatly, especially those who secure good shots and get no meat. Luke rendered a solo this morning dedicated to various members of the hunt which ran somewhat as follows:

"Who's been shootin' deer?
Who's been tryin'?
Who's been missin' deer?
All dis time?"

which was given at Barker's request.

FOR ALL CATARRHAL COMPLAINTS

"Peru-na is Most Excellent," Writes Congressman John L. Sheppard.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN L. SHEPPARD.

Constituent of John L. Sheppard, Member of Congress from Texas, writes: "Gentlemen—I have used Peru-na in my family and find it a most excellent remedy for all catarrhal complaints."—Congressman John L. Sheppard.

"I have fully recovered from my catarrhal troubles. I suffered for three years from catarrh of the head, nose and throat. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief, but at last I found a remedy given to me by the wonderful remedy called Peru-na.

"I read of Peru-na in your almanac, and wrote you for advice, which I followed. After taking one and a half bottles of Peru-na I am greatly improved, and can recommend Peru-na to anyone as the best and surest remedy for any catarrhal trouble."—Camillus Senne.

Hearing Lost by Catarrh—Restored by Peru-na.

Mr. William B. Burton, Burton, Texas, a Ginner and Miller, writes:

"Some years ago I lost the hearing in my left ear, and upon examination by a specialist, catarrh was decided to be the cause. I took a course of treatment and regained my hearing for a time but I soon lost it completely. I consulted a doctor to take Peru-na according to directions and have taken eight bottles in all, and my hearing is completely restored, and I shall sing the praises of Peru-na when an opportunity occurs."—Wm. B. Burton.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, consult a specialist. Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

VOTING CONTEST.

Elegant Prize to be Given to the Most Popular Lady in Christian County.

To Be Determined by a Vote of Kentuckian Subscribers.

A VOTING contest was begun August 29, for six months, to determine by popular vote the most popular lady in Christian County. To the lady receiving the highest number of votes, we will present an elegant set of bedroom furniture, now on exhibition at Pyle & Garnett's. It is of quartered oak, of the finest make and latest style, and is worth $10. The contest will close at 12 o'clock, noon, Thursday, March 4, 1903. The plan will be as follows:

Every subscriber to the Kentuckian who pays back dues or cash in advance will be entitled to cast one vote for each five cents paid. That is to say, a subscriber who pays $2.00 will have 40 votes, one who pays $1.00 will have 20 votes and so on for any amount large or small. In every paper published there will be a coupon and these coupons when cut out and brought or sent to the office will represent each one vote. A subscriber will also have the privilege of gathering up coupons clipped by friends from their papers and voting them one at a time, or by the hundred if preferred. One will also have the privilege of buying papers at the office at five cents each and voting the coupons cut from them.

The coupon ballots will be deposited in a ballot box with two keys. One of these keys will be held by County Judge W. T. Fowler and the other by Mayor Jouett Henry. The box will be opened not oftener than once a week, all ballots then in it taken out, counted and certified to, sealed up in an envelope and placed in the ballot box. The envelope will contain a statement of the votes in it, so that its contents will not need to be counted again until the official count at the close of the contest.

The last week of the contest the ballots may be deposited without showing them, so that the close of the contest may be secret and exciting to the end.

OFFICIAL BALLOTONE VOTE

In the Kentuckian's Most Popular Lady Contest Aug. 29, to March 4, 1903.

OLD PARISIAN BOOKSELLER.One of the Most Popular Venders of Rare Books Is No More.

One of the most popular, as well as most erudite Paris venders of rare books, M. Porquet, has died at an advanced age, at his rooms in the Avenue de l'Opera, whither he retired when he gave up his remarkable shop on the Quai Voltaire. The deceased, says the London Telegraph, had superintended in his time sales of such libraries as those of the Comte de Behançay, the Marquis de Gamay, the Baron de la Roche Lacarelle and M. Lignerolles. During a space of 70 years M. Porquet kept his shop, and never had it lighted by gas. For 50 years he had a single assistant, who was a specialist like himself. This was Amadee, who was well known to many booklovers, and with whom the Due d'Aumale never failed to shake hands when he looked into the shop on the Quai Voltaire. M. Porquet made a good deal of money out of his sales. His only recreation after he shut up his shop was to go to the Comedie Francaise to witness one of the classical plays, for he abhorred the romantics and the absurdists. The old bookseller had presented the Comedie with a very rare edition of Moliere, published in 1666. In return he was allowed a permanent free seat in the leading playhouse.

Fined for Dancing.

At Luebeck, in Germany, 129 fathers have been fined one mark apiece for allowing their children under ten years of age to dance at the harvest festival of a village near by. The village pastor objected to the dancing and reported the case to the police. It was discovered, however, that his children had danced too, and he was fined with the rest.

If Unwell,

Try a 50c bottle of HERBINE, nothing like it in the market. It is a tonic, a purifier, gives energy, strength and vigor. Watch how it brightens the spirits, gives freedom from indigestion and debility! Isaac Story, Ava, Mo., writes Sept. 10th, 1900: "I was in bad health, I had stomach trouble for 12 months, also numb cells. Dr. W. M. Morris prescribed HERBINE, it cured me in two weeks. I cannot recommend it too highly, it will do all you claim for it." Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Thirty Days for "Peeping."

Noah Grigg was sentenced to jail at Lexington for thirty days for "peeping" on what he declared was a mob which was forming to "white-cap" him.

Best Liniment on Earth.

Henry D. Baldwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis., writes: "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it, the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at R. C. Hardwick's.

Tied up by Strike.

The street car lines in Goshen, Elkhart and South Bend are tied up by a strike of the Indiana Railway company's employees. The interurban line from Goshen to South Bend has been abandoned.

Simple Colds,

Cease to be simple, if at all prolonged. The longest the way is put them aside at the very beginning. Ballard's Horsehoe Syrup stops a cold and removes the cause of colds, 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at R. C. Hardwick's.

Severe Earthquake Shocks.

A mountain near Urique, Chihuahua, is reported to have been driven by a volcanic disturbance. Severe earthquake shocks have also been felt.

Don't Worry.

This is easier said than done, but it may be of some help to consider the following: If there is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used. For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

Gutted by Fire.

The building occupied by the Daily Review newspaper, at Lockport, N. Y., was gutted by flames.

The peculiar cough which indicates croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. For sale by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

May Be Commuted.

It is conceded in London that the death sentence passed upon Col. Lynch will be commuted to life sentence.

A Reliable Remedy For Bowel Troubles.
